

Project Name:Study of First Nation Consultation Costs and Services in Alberta for Oil and Gas Operators

Project Location:	Calgary, Alberta, Canada
Client(s):	Canadian Association of Petroleum Producers
Date Completed:	Ongoing
Project Budget:	N/A
Project Summary:
On behalf of CAPP, Integrated Environments (along with McGuigan & vanKippersluis and Northern Research and Evaluation) has undertaken a study of the costs and benefits to the oil and gas industry that arise from consultation with First Nations in Alberta. The goal of the study is to understand the opportunities and benefits related to such engagement, as well as to understand the full costs incurred by industry.
Services Provided:
The study of First Nation consultation costs and benefits in Alberta consists of the following components: <ul style="list-style-type: none">* An internet-based survey of First Nation consultation costs and benefits for oil and gas companies operating in Alberta;* Interviews on First Nation consultation costs and benefits with oil and gas companies operating in Alberta;* Analysis of survey and interview results; and* Recommendations on the development of an effective consultation process in Alberta.
Deliverables or Results:
<ul style="list-style-type: none">* Report on First Nation Consultation Costs and Benefits in Alberta for oil and gas operators
Reference: N/A
Not available	